Est. 1898

the legendary name for fine writing instruments™

Established in 1898, the Conklin Pen Company® founded by Roy Conklin, an innovator from Toledo, Ohio USA, is today regarded as one of the most significant and innovative American writing instruments manufacturers from the golden era of fountain pens.

Roy Conklin registered the patent for the first working automatic filling mechanism in 1897 and is recognized as creating one of the world's first practical self-filling fountain pens. The Crescent filler™ soon proved to be a success world-wide.

Thanks to Roy Conklin, owner and inventor, the fountain pen was ultimately made more practical and convenient for the public with his patented invention of the Crescent Filler™. The Crescent Filler™ has a piece of metal shaped like a crescent moon, that extends from the side of the pen, and was the key to a simple and easy one-handed way to self-fill the pen with ink. The simple depression of the crescent engages the internal pressure bar to collapse the built-in rubber sac. Releasing the crescent allows incoming ink to fill the sac.

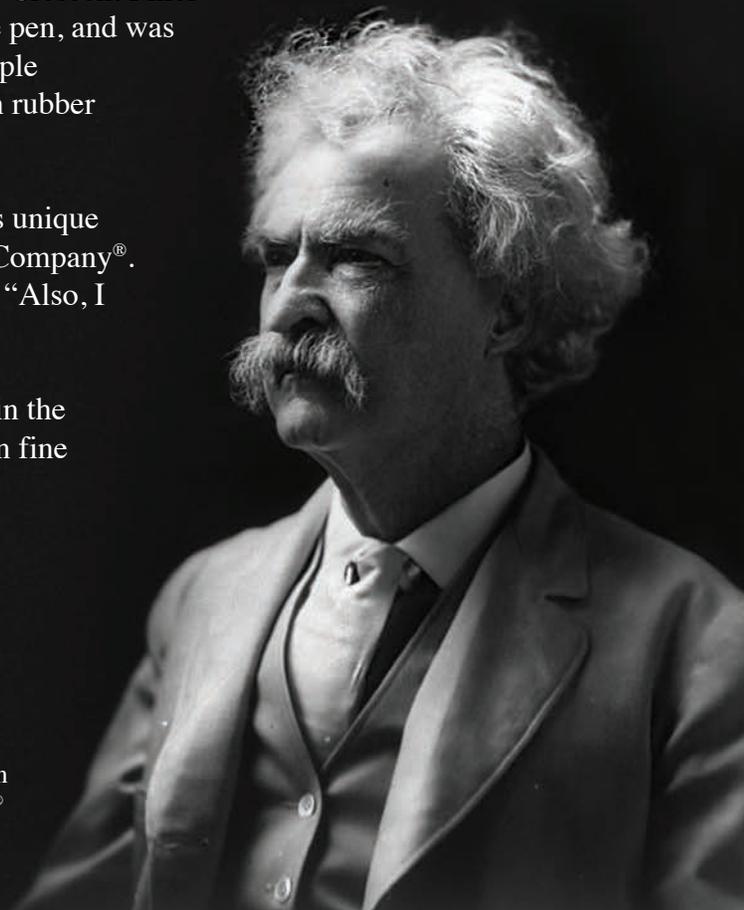

In 1903, Mark Twain, the legendary American author, expressed the virtues of this unique self-filling fountain pen and became the official spokesman for The Conklin Pen Company®. Mark Twain discovered yet another benefit to Conklin's Crescent Filler™ stating, "Also, I prefer it because it is a profanity saver' it cannot roll off the desk".

More than 120 years later, today's Conklin Pen Company® is striving to continue in the same spirit of bold innovation, while still providing the highest quality available in fine writing instruments throughout the world.

THE ROCKER CLIP

Most Conklin pens incorporate the original 1916 patented Spring-Loaded Rocker Clip. This perfectly balanced clip will easily fit and hold firmly in thin shirt pockets as well as in thick jacket or coat pockets.

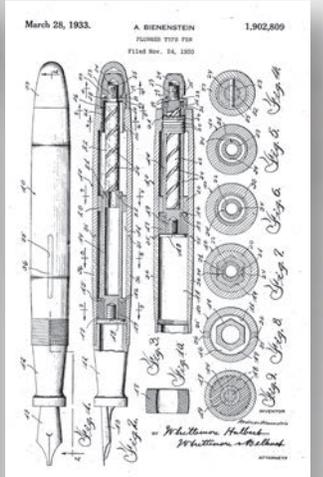

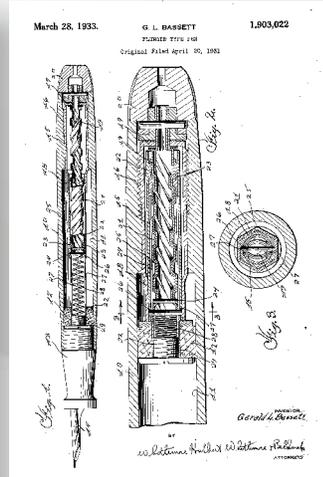

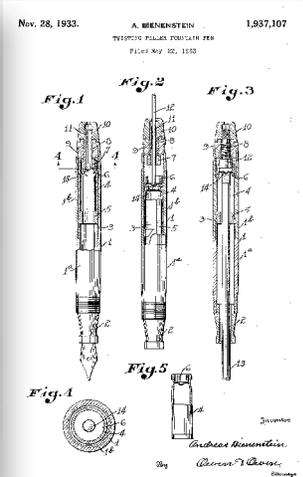

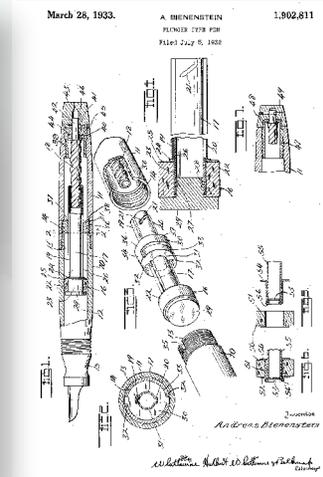

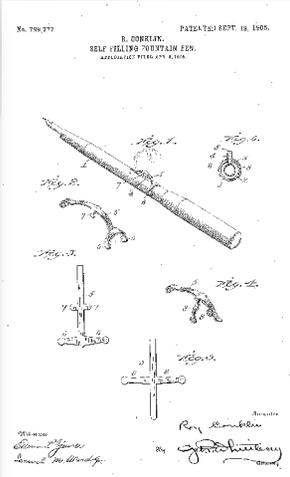

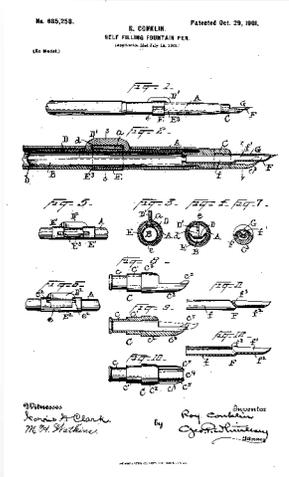

THE CHASE STORY

The process of Chasing is used to create beautiful and fascinating decorative design and texture that is embedded into the surface of the pen's material. In the 1900's most pens were made of hard black rubber. Chasing became a popular process to add creative and intricate design to the otherwise common look of a simple black pen. The complicated and delicate hand engraving or chasing afforded talented artists the opportunity to show and display their unique abilities. Since the Chasing process required excellent skills and was very time consuming, it added great value to the pen. The Chasing process is also known as Guilloche from the French word for the tool which was used to cut the engraved grooves into the material to create the handmade design.

CRESCENT FILLER

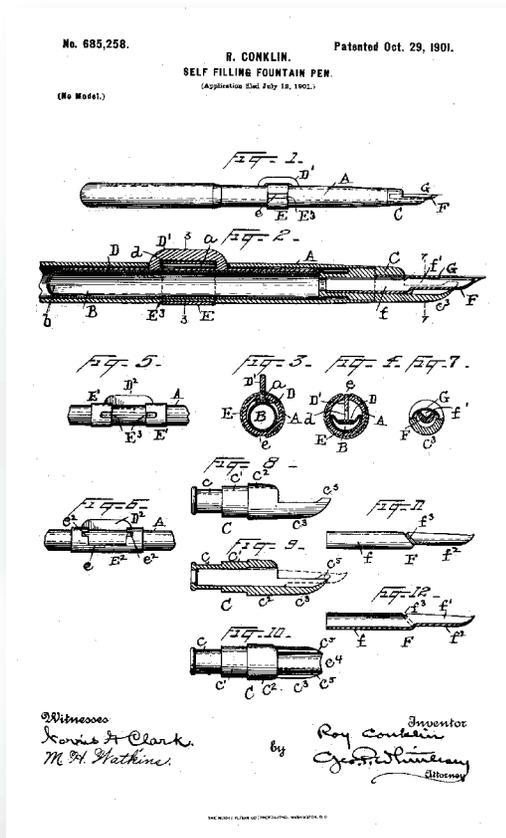

MARK TWAIN CRESCENT FILLER™ LIMITED EDITIONS

SELF-FILLING FOUNTAIN PEN™

Conklin proudly celebrates the pen that started it all for the famous company back in 1898, by introducing four new models in the Mark Twain Crescent Filler fountain pen collection. Roy Conklin invented and patented the self-filling pen known as the Crescent Filler, and now it is recognized as the world's first practical self-filling fountain pen. While it has imitators, it has no rivals. Its simplicity is its success. The operation is so simple and easy that it can even be done with just one hand! The locking ring prevents accidental depression of the crescent.

The back of the center ring is engraved with Mark Twain's famous signature. The crescent-filler is engraved on one side with the "Conklin" name and the other side with the "Crescent Filler Trade Mark".

MARK TWAIN CRESCENT FILLER™ SELF-FILLING FOUNTAIN PEN™

Establishing the Conklin Pen Company® as a leader in American writing instruments, the Crescent Filler™ became one of Conklin® brand's signature pens and changed the industry forever. Founder Roy Conklin from Toledo, Ohio, patented the design for the first self-filling pen in 1897, causing his company to thrive and gain the approval of author Mark Twain, who became the official spokesperson for the Conklin® brand. Three resin finishes honor Conklin's history, Black Chase with rose gold trim, Vintage Green with gold trim, and Vintage Blue with chrome trim. The fountain pens utilize Conklin's groundbreaking original design that still works as effortlessly as it did a century ago. Each pen is engraved with Mark Twain's signature along the band, and maintains the original Conklin® spring loaded rocker clip that was patented in 1916, which is the perfect addition to any pocket, jacket, or coat. The pens have the option to be fitted with one of six signature cushion point steel nibs, available in Extra Fine, Fine, Medium, Broad, Stub, and OmniFlex sizes. Between the elegant finishes and nib options to complement your handwriting, this famed collection has it all.

ALL AMERICAN

ALL AMERICAN™ COLLECTION CARTRIDGE/ CONVERTER/EYEDROPPER SPECIAL EDITION

The Conklin Pen Company® was established in 1898 during the golden era of fountain pens, and is still regarded as one of the most prominent pen manufacturers today. Inspired by Conklin's original models and the rich heritage of the brand, the new special edition All American Demo balances classic and contemporary to create timeless designs.

The collection is available in three color with three different trim finishes: Clear with chrome trim, Blue with rosegold trim, Orange with gunmetal trim. Crafted from handmade European high-grade resin, the All American Demo is developed to bring comfort and durability, with a carefully tapered cap and barrel. The tapered cap tops feature "rocker style" clip, and barrel is engraved with the Conklin trademark, All American logo and Special Edition. This edition is suited to individuals looking for a well-sized pen with a unique design that still rings true to original Conklin designs. Multi-coated plating adorns the clip and parts, enhancing the elegance of each pen. Available choices for JoWo premium stainless steel nib grades include Extra Fine, Fine, Medium, Board, Stub or Omniflex, which allows users to choose one that complements their individual handwriting style. Each nib displays the brand name and is marked with special crescent-shaped breathing hole. Our quality control team tests each nib individually to ensure top quality writing performance. The fountain pen uses reliable international cartridges, a converter (supplied) and plus as a bonus it is also an eyedropper pen. Included with the pen is an eyedropper for filling system.

To fill the pen: unscrew the barrel from the nib section of the pen holding the barrel upright and fill it with the eyedropper and the ink of your choice. Then screw the section back onto the pen. Real simple, easy to fill. The barrel holds 5 ml of ink that will keep you writing for a long time. Each Conklin brand writing instrument is housed in a luxury gift box with a custom-design sleeve. The All American Demo is an ideal gift for any person in your life, whether they use the pens in their professional lives, home offices, or as a style accessory.

CORONET

CORONET™ COLLECTION

Recognized and beloved across the globe for their innovations within the pen industry since 1898, the Conklin Pen Company® is proud to offer the latest addition to their extensive catalog. Introducing, the Coronet™ collection, a minimalist and modern fountain and ballpoint pen featuring solid colors with a high gloss metallic finish. With the barrel being handmade from bars of solid brass and the cap being made of stainless steel coated with vibrant lacquer, the Coronet™ collection is undoubtedly as resilient and strong as it is beautiful. Featuring a nearly flat top design and slim body, each pen is hand assembled and paired with silver accents as well as a classic L-shaped Conklin® clip. Mid-weight, and substantially sized yet not overly large, this pen is sure to please when in hand. Due to the lacquering process, each Coronet™ pen boasts a high gloss metallic finish and four color options to choose from: true Black, vibrant Turquoise, lively Orange, or eye-catching Olive. The Coronet™ offers six nib grades in Extra Fine, Fine, Medium, Broad, Stub, and OmniFlex for your individual handwriting style. The fountain pen uses international cartridges or converter (included), while the ballpoint accepts Parker® style refills.

DURAGRAPH™ COLLECTION

The Conklin Pen Company® is recognized as being one of the first companies to add the feature of true mobility to daily writing. In 1923, the Duragraph™ model was launched, and shortly afterward was considered to be 'the definitive' pen. The model was named by combining the words, durable and graph to equal Duragraph™.

Created to last as an heirloom to serve many generations, the Duragraph™ is offered with a lifetime guarantee, and brings a fresh, modern style to the timeless oversize flat top design. Crafted from quality handmade resins, the Duragraph™ is substantial in size, yet not so large as to be unwieldy in the hand. The cap top is embellished with the Conklin® Est. 1898 logo and the cap band is engraved with the famous Duragraph™ model script font with three Conklin® crescent logos on either side of the model name. The clip being mounted at the top of the cap allows the pen to sit low in the pocket, making this model a more practical choice for everyday use.

The fountain pen is available in six nib grades uses international cartridges or converter (supplied). The ballpoint accepts Parker® style ballpoint refills. Each Conklin® fine writing instrument is housed in a luxury gift box.

ENDURA DECO CREST COLLECTION

ART DECO

Deco, a design era that began in the mid-1920's, at the height of Conklin's® fountain pen business, was a large influence on the modern art world from architecture to fashion. Conklin® pens were no exception, as they were a significant contribution to the creative new age. Conklin's® new Endura Deco Crest is the ideal revival of that exciting period.

CONKLIN® TODAY

Great concepts and innovative ideas will stand the test of time. The Conklin Pen Company® of Toledo, Ohio, USA built and earned a reputation of high quality and careful workmanship that made one proud to own a genuine Conklin® pen. Unfortunately, the Conklin Pen Company® ceased production in 1955. The brand was brought back to life when the company was purchased in 2000. Yafa Pen Company®, owner and worldwide distributor of the Conklin® brand since 2009, is proud to utilize its 43 years of experience to restore the quality and dedication of the original Conklin Pen Company® to produce fine pens that are treasured for generations. It is very exciting to revitalize the original designs with their elegant and sophisticated look with the greatest attention to details and quality.

FILIGREE/OVERLAY

From 1660 to the late 19th century filigree was ornamental work made with grains or beads. It was very popular in Italy, France and Portugal as well as India and Asia. Today filigree/overlay is a form of intricate metalwork usually of fine wire of gold, silver, copper or metal, and is used to decorate various surfaces.

Filigree can be applied to any ornamental openwork of delicate or intricate design. The beauty of filigree craftsmanship is undeniable.

THE CONKLIN® ENDURA DECO CREST™ COLLECTION

The first Deco Crest™ pens were manufactured by Conklin Pen Company® back in 1905. Through the years the Deco Crest™ kept its place in Conklin's® collection by virtue of its beauty and durability. The Conklin Pen Company®, originally released the ever successful Endura in 1924 and the Endura line continued to expand and grow. Based on the original models, the Endura has all the aesthetic design features which made the pen such a timeless classic.

By combining these two famous models, today Conklin Pen Company® is proud to introduce Endura Deco Crest™. The collection is available in three gorgeous colors (blue, black and orange) with three finishes (rose gold, chrome and gunmetal). Crafted from hand-made European high-grade, hand-turned and hand-polished resin and accented with metal overlay, the barrel brilliantly reflects light off of its surface, enhancing the stunning colors. Lustrous plating adorns the clip, band, trim and overlay, enhancing the elegance of each Endura pen. The collection is available in Fountain and Ballpoint pen. The fountain pen has a premium JoWo stainless steel nib personalized with the Conklin name, the historic "Toledo, USA" mark, and a special crescent-shaped breathing hole. The stainless steel nib with iridium tip is both smooth and dependable, available in Extra Fine, Fine, Medium, Broad, Stub, and Omniflex. Fountain pen is filled by either ink cartridge or threaded ink converter (included). Ballpoint pen uses a Parker®-style ballpoint refill (included). Each Conklin® pen is sold in a luxury blue gift box. The legend of over a century lives on!

HERITAGE

HERITAGE WORD GAUGE™ COLLECTION PISTON - FILLING

The Conklin Pen Company® is recognized as being one of the first companies to design features of true technological advances to daily writing. The innovative technology of the Heritage Word Gauge™ is as useful today as it was when first developed in the 1930's.

This modern-day version of the Word Gauge™ allows you to view your ink level through a transparent window in the barrel of each pen. The different gauge marks along the window indicates the estimated number of words that the remaining ink will write before you need to fill your pen again, a truly unique and fun feature exclusively available with this collection. Each pen comes with a built-in piston-filling system for “straight out of the bottle ink filling”, to use simply dip your nib into the ink bottle and twist the piston located at the back end of the pen body.

The Heritage Word Gauge™ is handmade in Italy from a strong, unique resin and available in three glorious colors, Black with sleek gunmetal accents, or Blue, and Turquoise, both paired with stunning chrome accents to match. Along the front of each barrel is the name of the collection, tastefully engraved. Available in a choice of six nib grades, choose among Extra Fine, Fine, Medium, Broad, Stub, or OmniFlex.

STYLOGRAPH MOSAIC COLLECTION

Delivery: June 2022

The Conklin Pen Company® was established in Toledo, Ohio USA in 1898 by founder Roy Conklin. From the Golden era of fountain pens until today, it's regarded as one of the most significant and innovative American writing instruments manufacturers and recognized as being one of the first companies to add the feature of true mobility to daily writing. The Stylograph™ collection is designed and based upon the original and timeless Conklin® models from the 1930's and brought into the new era with bright colors and unique finishes. The Stylograph™ Mosaic is made of very rare, difficult to produce and beautiful acrylic resins which create the special bold mosaic art deco designs. The collection is available in three vibrant color combinations: Blue and Yellow with Rose Gold accents, Orange and Black with Gunmetal accents, Green and Brown with chrome accents. The pen features Conklin's original 1916 patented spring loaded rocker clip, perfectly balanced and designed to fit easily to thin or thick pocket materials with just a simple touch of the hand. Each pen is hand-made and therefore, no two pens are exactly alike. The Stylograph™ Mosaic is available in fountain pen and ballpoint pen modes. The ballpoint pen activates with a twist mechanism and accepts Parker® style refills. The fountain pen is equipped with a premium JoWo stainless steel nib personalized with the Conklin name, the historic "Toledo, USA" mark, and a special crescent-shaped breathing hole. The nib is both smooth and dependable, available in Extra Fine, Fine, Medium, Broad, Stub, and Omniflex. Filled by either cartridge or converter (both included). Each Conklin pen is sold in a luxury blue gift box.

SYMETRIK COLLECTION

Delivery: June 2022

Journey back in time with the new Conklin Symetrik Collection. Ever since its establishment in 1898, The Conklin Pen Company® has produced writing instruments that were built to last many years due to the quality with which they were manufactured and the durable materials used in the process. This tradition of high-quality workmanship continues in the new models today. The name Symetrik refers to the symmetry that can be seen in the pen's elegant, streamlined and balanced design adorned with lustrous chrome clip, band and trim. The original 1930 patented design included an inlay in the shape of a half-moon on the cap just above the clip and enameled rings. In today's modern take on this classic, Conklin® is proud to present smooth and continuous design making the new Symetrik model one to adore. This collection is available in fountain pen, ballpoint pen and rollerball pen. The fountain pen has a premium JoWo stainless steel nib personalized with the Conklin name, the historic "Toledo, USA" mark, and a special crescent-shaped breathing hole. The stainless steel nib with iridium tip is both smooth and dependable, available in Extra Fine, Fine, Medium, Broad, Stub, and Omniflex. Filled by either ink cartridge or threaded ink converter (included). Ballpoint pen uses a Parker-style ballpoint refill (included). The capped rollerball accepts standard international rollerball refills. Each Conklin pen comes in a luxury blue gift box.

CONKLIN TOLEDO COLLECTION

Delivery: May 2022

The Conklin Pen Company® was established in Toledo, Ohio USA in 1898 by founder Roy Conklin. From the Golden era of fountain pens until today, it's regarded as one of the most significant and innovative American writing instruments manufacturers. Conklin is recognized as being one of the first companies to add the feature of true mobility to daily writing. Founder Roy Conklin patented the design for the first self-filling pen in 1901. With this patent, Conklin introduced a self-filling mechanism called the Crescent-Filler™. To commemorate the birthplace of Conklin Pen Company, we created the Toledo Collection. Meticulously handcrafted from high-grade black resin, Toledo is available in three gorgeous color accents: Red, Orange and Lapis Blue. Each pen features the original Conklin® spring loaded rocker clip patented in 1916 and lustrous chrome ring on the cap engraved with the collection name. Toledo is equipped with premium stainless steel JoWo nib in choices of Extra Fine, Fine, Medium, Broad, Stub, or Omniflex point sizes. Each Conklin pen is sold in a luxury blue gift box with a custom-designed sleeve.
